Compass Group Teamsters at North Fraser Pre-Trial Unanimously Ratify New Contract

The new 1-year agreement raises wages significantly

The kitchen staff at North Fraser Pre-Trial entered collective bargaining seeking significant wage increases. After two (2) days of negotiations chaired by Business Agent Duane Bryan, the union bargaining committee accomplished its objective for the membership.

“The bargaining committee with co-chair Business Agent Paul Simms and Shop Steward Jatinder Jagpal provided great insight at the table,” said chair Duane Bryan, “the new 1-year agreement overcomes inflation and cost of living building a positive future for our members.”

The new one (1) year agreement addressed several key issues for the membership, most importantly, wages. The Cooks and Food Service Workers were pleased to receive a $1.31 per hour wage increase, including the payout of all unused sick time pay yearly and a boost to the footwear allowance.

“A short-term contract addressing wages was beneficial for our kitchen staff members at this time,” said President Stan Hennessy, “the bargaining committee did outstanding work for our sisters and brothers. In return, the contract was voted in by 100%.”

The dedicated kitchen staff are proud Teamsters who prepare fresh meals for the prison facility. On average, the kitchen prepares three (3) meals daily for 400 to 500 inmates. The staff work under a busy schedule that ensures all inmates receive breakfast, lunch, and dinner.
